

LED Layout Patterns*

From  ROSE BRAND

Our Classic ShowLED star drops are typically built using an “irregular” pattern, which looks more like a realistic night sky.

Our Chameleon ShowLED star drops are typically built using a “regular” pattern. Since most customers using Chameleon drapes are not trying to replicate the night sky, they prefer the more even spacing of the regular pattern.

If you are building your own ShowLED drapes, these pattern ideas may help you decide the layout that works for you.

* This layout information is intended as a general guideline. Rose Brand will build any custom-built drape to your specifications and preferences.
